

Definitive Anaesthetic Assistants in Trauma Care Course

dstc

Surgeons.
Anaesthesiologists.
Nurses.

The Definitive Anaesthetic Assistants Trauma Care (DAATC) course is a three day training programme for qualified anaesthetic technicians/assistants who have a minimum of two years' recent clinical experience in a perioperative setting. The course runs as part of a combined programme including the DSTC course for surgeons, the DPNTC course for nurses and the DATC course for anaesthetists.

This course aims to foster teamwork and collaboration in the multidisciplinary care of the surgical trauma patient. The theory components of the program and hands-on operative laboratory will give you increased confidence in dealing with difficult trauma situations. The course is a unique opportunity for perioperative staff to train together and focus on both the technical and non-technical skills required to care for critically ill trauma patients.
